Mass-murderer, Evidence Fiasco, or the Hoax of the Century?

Encouraging a de novo, non-biased review of the COVID-19 pandemic in the United States

Abstract

Numerous questions related to the COVID-19 pandemic remain unanswered; however, the recently changed political climate reinstates the traditional scientific discussion based on evidence and honors truth-telling over political correctness. Therefore, we restate our request to review the statistical data related to the calculation of true COVID-19 lethality/mortality in the United States. It is necessary to re-evaluate the adequacy of some excessive restrictions, mandatory vaccination of the entire population, and the use of largely untested vaccines (especially using the highly controversial mRNA vaccines). The “blue-color” (political bias) of the American COVID-19 pandemic deserves rigorous and unbiased scrutiny.

Two major goals that motivate the de novo review:

1. Learning from mistakes and preventing their repetition in the future;
2. Persons who misused the pandemic for personal (monetary and political) benefits deserve legal attention and punishment.

1. Introduction/Background

Amateur scientist and Microsoft billionaire Bill Gates called the COVID-19 pandemic 8 weeks after the detection of the first cases in the USA: the “Ones-In-A-Century Pandemic” (Gates, 2020).

A few weeks later, the country's leading scientist, the Stanford-based super expert of epidemiology and statistics, John Ioannidis issued a warning, predicting that COVID-19 could be a “Once-In-A-Century Data Fiasco” (J. on Miltimore, 2020). He was right.

In February 2020, there was no statistically sufficient amount of data to form any informed opinion about the nature of the pandemic (dangerousness). Consequently, the outcry of Gates was a powerful tool for generating mass hysteria and panic. Ioannidis was threatened and silenced. Although he could keep his academic appointments, he never touched the subject again. The usual public discussion over the nature of COVID-19 lasted only a few weeks but ended quickly when the responsible governmental agencies decided that there is only one acceptable opinion (they called it scientific), namely that COVID-19 is a dangerous killer that has to be stopped at any price. The authorities enforced this opinion in two ways:

1. Scientists who disagreed were censored, suppressed, humiliated, threatened, discriminated against, and isolated. Whistle-blowers collided with massive, all-covering censorship.

Just to mention a few of great and responsible persons, “whistle-blowers,” who risked “their life and limb” to provide public safety and defense against the COVID-19 disease, but prevent wasteful misuse of public resources and the health of healthy persons, stop the destruction caused by the popularity chasing but ridiculously ignorant health bureaucrats:

- John Ioannidis, MD, PhD, correctly described the essence of the rational defense against COVID-19 and the irrational (stupid) panic-generating rhetoric, greed, and political power-hunger.
  - Joseph Lapado, MD, PhD (Lapado, 2025), Florida Surgeon General; best known for his opposition to COVID-19 mitigation measures;
  - Scott M. Jensen, MD, (practicing doctor and state senator) was one of the first primary care physicians to suggest that COVID-19 is just another seasonal flu that became strongly over-diagnosed for monetary reasons. He is known for his criticisms of COVID-19 lockdowns and the promotion of COVID-19 anti-vaccination arguments (Jensen, 2025).
  - Jay Bhattacharya, MD, PhD; Martin Kulldorff PhD., Dr.h.c, Sunetra Gupta, PhD; co-authors of the Great Barrington Declaration (American, 2020) a very powerful opposition to the unmotivated forced vaccinations and lock-downs.
  - Robert W. Malone MD (Malone, 2024), the original inventor of core mRNA and DNA vaccination technology— was careful to disclose the dangerous side effects of mRNA-based COVID vaccines.
1. The authorities literally fabricated false evidence depicting the pandemic as much more threatening as it was in reality.
    - Noticeably, the “tsar” of the American epidemiology, Dr Fauci (Fauci, 2025), played a key role in fuelling the mass hysteria and selling masks with his daily appearances on the national TV.
    - The country’s highest ranking health organization, the CDC (CDC, 2025), also provided a massive, so-called “professional” support for keeping the pestilence alive and the people remaining locked in the solitude of their own home, far away from working or enjoying life.

- Governor of New York, Andrew Cuomo (New York, 2025) established his own personal daily prime time COVID-19 horror show, which was based on the dramatic reporting of new deaths in the nursing homes of the “big apple” (New York City).

1.1 Recent Developments

However, nothing lasts forever. The pandemic ended after about 2 years, and even the WHO ended the public health emergency after 3 years (in May 2023). People were happy for the regained freedom and wanted to forget it.

However, there were exceptions, and scientists and some politicians wanted more. They wanted to learn from this unique event in American history. Others were looking for responsibility for the poor understanding of suffering. These intelligent and brave people who started the critical review of the pandemic are well aware of the necessity to learn from mistakes if you want to avoid them in the future. There will be more pandemics in the future.

- They wanted to know the exact origin of the so-called “China virus.”
- The true vaccine effect produced by “warp speed.”
- The real necessity of mandatory testing and vaccination (especially for children and young adults and military personnel) should be highlighted.
- The causal connection between the seemingly perfectly timed epidemic and a strange presidential election (2020) that resulted in a “ghost government” ruling with autopen and became responsible for the highly unexpected rebirth of the violent communism in the United States.

2. Where are we today?

1. Thanks to the tireless and professional examination of Senator Rand Paul (Paul, 2025), we know that Dr Fauci is one of the evil (master?)-minds creating and financing (via NIH) a “dangerous gain-of-function” (GOF) research in Wuhan and created the familiar COVID-19 virus that infected the entire human population and directly or indirectly killed (and still killing) millions of persons.
2. We learned that much of the increase in mortality during and after the pandemic was caused by the human reaction to the virus threat rather than the virus itself.
3. The mRNA-based vaccines had an unexpectedly high rate of serious side effects, including death. COVID-19 vaccines seem to have disappeared thanks to the critical actions of HHS Director RF Kennedy Jr., who recently fired the entire vaccine advisory team of CDC (Shots, 2025)
4. We (The People) were successful in electing the Trump-Vance government with young, intelligent, and responsible directors in key positions. This government guarantees that the truth will surface, even regarding the real nature of the COVID-19 pandemic, and that the well-deserved lessons will finally be learned and preserved for future generations.

5. The trust is broken. People usually and naturally trust the opinions of doctors and scientists and follow their elected leaders' directives. However, this trust has been eroded during the last 4-5 years due to misuse by politicians: the weaponization of vital government institutions for illegitimate political purposes, the abundance of "fake news," and the widespread acceptance of dishonesty by leaders in power positions. There is no longer a rational reason to believe that all the COVID-19-related information was or is correct. The opposite is happening. There is a strong, rational reason to re-evaluate the government's fundamental statements and actions.

3. Biro's studies and findings 2020-2024

Biro MD, PhD is a Swedish/American medical doctor and scientist. He has recently published articles on COVID-19 in several peer-reviewed scientific journals.

1. We detected an unprecedented characteristic of the COVID-19 pandemic in the USA as early as May 2020: it had colour (SIC!), it was blue, meaning that significantly more COVID-19 diseases and deaths were detected in left-oriented states than in right-oriented states. We introduced the "political score" to provide a more exact description of this phenomenon (Biro, 2024/a).
2. We critically reviewed (Biro, 2024/b). the diagnostic and statistical support for the COVID-19 pandemic in the USA and concluded that many states largely ignored the importance of a) specific viral tests and b) considerations of the "natural," age-related deaths when determining and reporting the correct number of deaths caused by the COVID-19 virus (COVID mortality and lethality). It led to approximately three-fold (SIC! 300%) over-reporting of cases in which the underlying cause of death (UCOD) was undoubtedly the virus, and this fake information catastrophically misled the health authorities in determining the proper defense against the pandemic in the United States.
3. We focused on the effects of restrictions (Biro, 2024/c) on COVID-19 lethality and concluded that restrictions had no health benefits.
4. We analyzed (Biro, 2024/d) the "human" contributions to the damages caused by the virus and concluded that most of the pandemic's negative effects were self-made.
5. In the summary and conclusions (Biro, 2025) of our 4-year-long study (waiting for more favorable political conditions), we strongly suggest a de novo, unbiased, nonpolitical, professional review of the original COVID-19 metadata and decision-making processes. We have provided several guidelines on what reviewers should look for and why.

Summary

The development of "blue COVID" in the USA is unprecedented and simply mind-blowing in the history of mankind. Therefore, several independent objective professional investigators should repeat and confirm or reject our studies. Ignoring this review would multiply the existing damages.

Please recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic is a gold mine for studying our political system and the very significant vulnerability of the multicultural, multi-ethnic American society to evil manipulations.

Pandemics used to return in one or another form. We (or our descendants) will soon or later face the next epidemic. Better to be prepared and learn the lessons from our sad COVID-19 adventure.
